The Short List: 50 Best Master-Planned Communities in the United States

... And the honorees are ... No, we can't reveal them yet, but the Where to Retire July-August issue will feature the ninth biennial honor roll of the country's top developments. The Short List is an elite selection of 50 neighborhoods that provide the active lifestyles retirees seek today. The selection is diverse — in size, amenities and location. Besides a brief profile of each community, we provide a handy two-page guide to all 50 and their amenities.

Where to Retire

50 THE SHORT LIST

50 BEST MASTER-PLANNED COMMUNITIES IN THE U.S.

FEATURES

8 LIVABLE TOURIST TOWNS

Retirees who relocate to cities known as popular vacation spots learn to love life behind the tourist curtain. They appreciate the beauty and allure of why the city became popular with visitors in the first place, while learning all the secrets of avoiding the push of tourists. It's a fun mission to uncover the inside stories of cheap admissions, attractions off the beaten path and the best days and times to dine at their favorite restaurants. Find out more about these attractive locales: The Adirondacks, NY; Hot Springs, AR; Lafayette, LA; Las Vegas, NV; Outer Banks, NC; Park City, UT; Rapid City, SD; and Sarasota, FL.

SCOUTING OUT YOUR RETIREMENT RELOCATION

Part of the joy of making a move in retirement is the anticipation of finding a place that is made-to-order according to your wish list. Weather, traffic, shopping, housing and more can be assessed in the discovery part of your relocation. The Internet is great for starters, but being there in person and talking to locals will help cement the decision. Many master-planned communities offer "stay-and-play" packages allowing a couple days to check out the lifestyle.
